Personal

Being an upbeat individual, it's important that my friendly attitude and positive personality is reflected in everything I do. Having a multidiscipline background makes me a well-rounded creative, confident in any role and ready for any task. My mixture of experience in a variety of roles means I'm always up for the challenge.

Whilst working in a fast paced environment, I've developed excellent communication skills, both pitching and discussing ideas. As well as being diligent with my time, I pride myself on my efficient work ethic with time sensitive tasks. Determined to go that extra mile, I'll always stay focused to produce the best possible work.

Above all else, I feel my fusion of skills; passion and can do attitude, makes me an essential part of any team.
